Your request has been considered and processed in accordance with the requirements of the Freedom of Information (FOI) Act 2000.

The Health and Safety Laboratory (HSL) hosts and runs a National Population Database tool which comprises detailed population data for Great Britain in a number of different categories. One of these relates to hospitals and has been previously created using locational information from the Ordnance Survey as well as statistics relating to hospitals.

We are now looking to update this dataset and require up-to-date data about the hospitals in England. Specifically we require the number of beds at each hospital within your trust.

Please see attached pdf.

Should you require further clarification, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Please find enclosed an information sheet regarding copyright protection and the Trust's complaints procedure in the event that you are not satisfied with the response.

Yours sincerely
